The fifth year of the operation of the Lloyd Act ended June 30, 1920, the date of this report. During the year our operations have been very interesting, far-reaching and important. When it is considered that there are always on the books as borrowers from our licensees over eighty thousand borrowers and in dollars more than four million constantly employed and further that during the year (while no exact figures are available) probably two hundred thousand different borrowers are accommodated and that each borrower represents a family of some size, it will be seen that the importance of this work is more than considerable. The class of our population affected by this law too is most...
