FBC LTD, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from The Latter-Day Saints Millennial Star, Vol. 69: August 15, 1907 What a change has come over that part of the world since those days! Utah, which was then a barren waste, has become a fruit ful field. Through the blessings of Jehovah, a land, which was once the home of wild beasts and venomous reptiles, has been transformed into a garden of roses. Thousands of fine homes dot the land in which at one time could be seen only the dilapidated Wigwam of the poor redskin, the American Indian. Had it not been for the unfaltering faith which they had in God, and for the power which He gave them, the Saints would never have been able to accomplish the marvelous achievements which they have accomplished, and which have called forth the admiration of thou sands who have visited our State. At the great expositions in America our fruits have been awarded first prize, and our wheat has been sought for by the merchants of the Orient. Through the blessings of the Lord the soil of Utah has been made to...
