This type of publication is every thing and helped me seeking ahead and much more. It usually fails to charge too much. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

Excerpt: .will not pretend to deny his happy facility in asking irrelevant questions. In the present case we can only imagine Mr. Willis reply: -- My dear sir, he might say, I certainly do not think much the worse of Mr. Dana because Mr. Neal charged him with the piracy, but be so kind as not to inquire what might have been my opinion had there been any substantiation of the charge. I quote Outis inquiry, however, not so much to insist upon its singular luminousness, as to call attention to the argument embodied in the capital letters of THE DYING RAVEN. Now, were I, in any spasm of perversity, to direct Outis catechetical artillery against himself, and demand of him explicitly his reasons for causing those three words to be printed in capitals, what in the world would he do for a reply? As a matter of course, for some moments, he would be profoundly embarrassed--but, being a true man, and a chivalrous one, as all defenders of Mr. Longfellow must be, he could not fail, in the end, to admit that they were so printed for the purpose of safely insinuating a charge which not even an Outis had the impudence openly to utter. Let us imagine his thoughts while carefully twice underscoring the words. Is it impossible that they ran thus?-- I am perfectly well aware, to be sure, that the only conceivable resemblance between Mr. Bryant s poem and Mr. Poe...
