Felony & Mayhem. 1 Paperback(s), 2010. soft. Book Condition: New. Troubles, someone once said, come in battalions, and Timothy Kinnit would concur. The golden scion of a rich and aristocratic family, Timothy is about to marry the girl of his dreams. But when rumors start to circulate about his parentage, the young lady's father puts the kibosh on the wedding, and shortly thereafter, Timothy becomes the chief suspect first in a housebreaking and then in a suspicious death. Mr. Campion is happy to look into the problem, but then it gets a good deal worse somebody, it seems, is willing to go to some very ugly lengths to keep Timothy from finding the truth. First appearing as a supporting character in 1929's The Crime at Black Dudley, and going on to take the lead in another 18 novels and as many more stories, the determinedly bland and affable Campion is in fact a man of action, an aristocrat who prefers a life of adventure, investigation, and helping those in need. Margery Allingham (1904-66) is one of the queens of the golden age of British mysteries, and her fair-haired hero has starred in numerous adaptations on BBC television. "Miss Allingham is very, very good and those who are not familiar with her have a discovery awaiting them." LATimes 275.
