Excerpt: .of the Red Beds it higher levels, and they would show everywhere more disturbance. They seem only to occupy a regular belt, surrounding the hills on all sides, never rising so as to be seen within the hills. I have no doubt but the hills have been elevated farther subset)tient to the Red Reds, but the shattered condition of the Carboniferous limestone and the underlying sandstone (July 24) is so complete, that it shows plainly that the Red Beds, if overlying, could not have escaped a similar breaking up. I have seen the former made up of limestone and sandstone in angular pieces of all sizes to G feet, thoroughly mixed, the whole stained red, overlain by the Red Beds, undisturbed beyond a gentle dip. All the other formations--those of the Cretaceous--are in this respect like the Red Beds. There must also have been a...
