It has been carefully revised and considerably modified. Some of the forms have been shortened and otherwise altered, and some new ones have been added. The Scripture selections for funerals have been left, mainly, as in the first edition. It will be noticed that these selections are classified, and form continuous lessons, instead of being a series of verses indiscriminately strung together from different parts of the Bible. For the convenience of pastors who prefer to use the Episcopal Liturgy in the celebration of marriage, the Episcopal form is given, according to the latest revision of the Book of Common Prayer. For such as prefer a different form, another and briefer service is added, and substituted for the one in the first edition. Forms for Morning and Evening Church-Service have been inserted. Out of the rich treasure of the prayers of the ages there has been inserted a limited and classified selection of Collects gathered from different ancient liturgies, which may be found helpful on certain occasions.
