Forgotten Books, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Hospital Gazette and Archives of Clinical Surgery, Vol. 3: A Weekly Journal of Medicine, Surgery and the Collateral Sciences; April 25, 1878 In making the incision begin at the median line of the raphe and carry the knife towards the tuberosity of the ischium. You thus divide the fat and the middle perineal fascia. Deeper still you divide the transverse perineal muscle and the transverse perineal artery. The first bleeding that occurs is usually from this artery. After having cut thus far, feel for the grooved staff held in the urethra. Be careful not to carry the knife too far out towards the internal pudic artery. Now direct the point of the knife towards the groove and running it down the groove divide the prostate gland and open a way into the bladder.
