Extensive guideline! Its such a great go through. It is definitely basic but surprises in the 50 % of the pdf. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

Excerpt from Factors of Loss in Marketing and Storing Butter A study of the losses occurring in creamery operations permits of many lines of investigation. The loss considered in this work, although possibly not as scientific as those relative to testing and methods of buttermaking, is considered because of the constant demand for data, proving the extent of the shrinkage and market losses. There is no intention of disparagement of methods now in use by either the manufacturer or the market commission merchant. The problem in general is a study of weight differences, the creamery amount in comparison with the market amount and the inquiry of separate factors causing the ordinary discrepancy.
