Sin Eternal is more than just a re-tooling of the immortal classic, Dantes Inferno. It plants itself firmly in the modern world and away from the political crimes that dominated Dantes work. It brings a very basic questioning of the mans faith as he witnesses some of the most horrendous punishments that could be exacted. From the ferry of Charon, the man is taken into the very depths of evil. He must escape the giant creature, Minos to the swallowing jaws of Cerebus. From the Dance of the Harlots who abused love to the gluttons who are encased in solid gold. Witnessing the Heretics, imprisoned in furnace like cells to the Industrialists, those who are taken over by the very machines they created. Those who kill in the name of God are forced into an unending battle of mutilation which leads to the River of Blood with the souls of Idi Amin, Hitler, and Stalin washing the crimson onto the shores.
