Abbott Lawrence, in Reply to Those Addressed by Mr. Lawrence to the Hon. William C. Rives, of Virginia: Also, the Letters of Mr. Lawrence, Above Named, Together With the Famous Faneuil Hall Proceedings, Resolutions, C. In Favor of Free Trade, in the Year 1820 You will find, very soon after a regular system of the division of labor shall have been introduced, that a desire for knowledge will be created; more education, more intellectual cultivation, will be desired by those engaged in the mechanical departments, and with this eagerness for knowledge will follow skill and cleverness in the use of tools, and then will follow the inventive power, for which our people have become so distinguished in the estimation of the world. You cannot do anything in Virginia, that will so completely promote the introduction of rail roads, as the plan of manufacturing establishments on your beautiful water falls. The water power on the James river at Richmond, is unrivalled; and it seems a great waste of natural wealth, to permit it to run into the sea, having hardly touched a water wheel. If the prominent men of Virginia, of both political parties, will give up their party warfare, and resolve themselves into a committee of the whole, on the common wealth, to improve the state of agriculture, by making two blades of grass grow, where there is now but one; will establish manufactures; and carry on a well adjusted system of internal improvements, they will then have done something that will be substantial, abiding, which will stand as memorials of their patriotic devotion to...
