Excerpt from One Year at the Russian Court: 1904-1905 At last, I was on the eve of my departure for Russia! The dream of my twenty summers! For that great Russia, the country of my devoted grandmother, Baroness de Nicolay, who, however, was born in London, her father, Baron de Nicolay, being at the time attached to the Russian Embassy there. He subsequently became Russian Minister at Copenhagen, where on account of the many friendships he had formed in society and his deep attachment to the then King and Queen of Denmark and all their family - who held him in the greatest esteem and intimacy - he remained more than twenty years, refusing every offer of advancement in consequence. Queen Louise, Queen Alexandras mother, kept up a frequent correspondence with my grandmother up to the time of the latters death. Here, it may be of interest to mention that I have amongst my most valued possessions a beautiful diamond bracelet given by the Queen to my grandmother, who was by birth half French on her mothers side, nee Princesse de Broglie-Revel, and until her marriage maid of honour to the Empress of Russia.
