

The Lancasterian System of Instruction in the Schools of New York City (Paperback)

By John Franklin Reigart

Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .From the INTRODUCTION. The present school system of the city of New York is the result of growth and unification extending over a period of nearly a century, from the organization of the Free School Society in 1805 to the reorganization of the schools of the greater System city in 1902. During nearly half of that period public elementary education was administered by a corporation not responsible to the people. From the establishment of the Board of Education in 1842 to its absorption of the Public School Society in 1853, two distinct systems existed. The formation of the greater city of New York in 1898 involved great extension and new readjustment. To the school system of the former city of New York, now the Borough of Manhattan and the Borough of the Bronx, there were added two city school systems, those of Brooklyn and Long Island City, and thirty-five school districts in the Borough of Queens and twenty-nine in the Borough of Richmond. Complete unification of these diverse elements was not accomplished until the charter of 1901 went into effect. In 1805,...
