Excerpt from The County Prisons of Pennsylvania: The Journal of Prison Discipline and Philanthropy Since the 31st of Third Month of this year, the Secretary, in accordance with the resolution of the Acting Committee, has visited the county prisons in each of the 67 counties of the State, in all 70 institutions. In the course of this investigation, the Secretary has been received with the utmost courtesy by all officials connected with the prisons, and he especially desires to express his gratitude to them for the care, patience and consideration with which they have endeavored to give accurate information with regard to his rather numerous queries. In addition to the sheriff or warden, the Secretary has generally interviewed the Commissioners, the Clerk of the Court, and occasionally the Prosecuting Attorney and the Presiding Judge. Their opinions with regard to prison conditions, and especially with regard to the problem of furnishing employment to the prisoners, have been sought. I am convinced that this comprehensive view of the prisons, practically taken at the same time, will be of much service in enabling us to form a just estimate with regard to penal conditions. We may visit a dozen county jails this year, a dozen next year, and a dozen the third year, and all these visits are of value and ought to be encouraged, but they are of little avail in an effort to prepare a comprehensive summary of conditions which may obtain at any one time. Such a summary is practically a necessity in deciding what improvements in penal management should be attempted. Just one or two instances may show the benefit of a contemporaneous view. If a summary should be prepared...
