Why, it s yours, of course! Death is one topic that many people feel dreadfully uncomfortable discussing. Planning a funeral, burial, or service for a loved one can be devastating. Wouldn t you want everyone who attended your funeral, burial, or services to know what an amazing person you were? Wouldn t you like them to walk away with more than just tears and sadness? How about if they learned more about your hobbies and interests? What if they discovered that you rescued animals, loved children, loved a particular sport, or enjoyed books, traveling, and classical music? What about the awards you received, the offices you held, the organizations in which you were affiliated. I believe that if your service was personalized, family and guests who attended might have a more intimate experience and leave with an everlasting impression of you and your life. That s why I ve created My Funeral, My Way: A Journal for Those Who Would Like to Assist in Planning Their Own Funeral.
