Excerpt: . . . indefinitely extended by a thick awning of brush cut from the neighboring trees and supported on poles. This was often done in times of a great rally as at special revival meetings, which often continued for one or two weeks. Mrs. Brown not infrequently was in attendance, visiting sometimes from door to door and holding cottage prayer-meetings. Including the mother church we have nine Congregational churches as the fruit, in part, of the missionary efforts in and about Talladega. They have an average membership of seventy, though there are not a few absent owing to the unsettled character of the people. Last year they contributed over two thousand dollars to the Lords work. All are comfortably housed except one, and all have good Sabbath-schools, and godly and intelligent pastors. Three have had beautiful chapels erected during the past five years. Two have had their...
