One of the hardest things we'll ever attempt to do is love people who ignore us or who even actively despise us. Do you see why Jesus commands to love our enemies, pray for those who persecute us, and do good to those who would do evil to us, remains so low in priority on our lives To Do list It is painful just to think that we must love people who consider us so rotten. No sane person would put themselves through an emotional meat grinder, by embracing such a goal. No sane person would strive to do as Jesus commands. No sane person would leap the wall that protects our flimsy self from destruction, and show such vulnerability and meekness to the conniving and deceitful world, ruled by Satan. And so we must choose the apparent insanity of God, and choose to be vulnerable, and truly loving, even though this will, most certainly, bring us pain. This quote came from Advanced Christianity. This ebook you are considering is filled with teaching, as above, that takes you beyond the Sunday...

Reviews

It is great and fantastic. Better than ever, though I am quite late in starting reading this one. Your life period will likely be transformed once you comprehensively read this book.
