Next came service for the English, including the sermon with the holy communion, continued from half-past ten till about half-past twelve. The French service began at one. At two I catechised the children. About three began the English service. After this was ended I joined with as many as my largest room could hold, in reading, prayer, and singing praise. And about six the service of the Germans began, at which I was glad to be present, not as a teacher, but as a learner. This is no artist s sketch of himself, hung up in his studio as a specimen of his skill, or poet s portrait prefixed to doggrel dithyrambs, with eye in a fine frenzy rolling, to gratify personal...
