We are informed that practically all of the peaches which are commercially canned in California are yellow-fleshed clings. --C. L. Alsrerg. THE TERM CAVIAE. Labeling of caviar made from whitcfish to which a harmless vegetable dye had been added. This question has been taken up at some length with the Commissioner of Fisheries. The bureau is informed that the term caviar can properly be applied to any kind of fish eggs prepared after a special method. The eggs first prepared and most extensively used were those of the sturgeon and to many people the term caviar is synonymous with sturgeon caviar. In view of this fact and of other considerations, it is believed that the name of the particular fish from whose eggs caviar is made should appear on the label. In the case in point an appropriate label would be whitcfish caviar. This bureau will make no objection to the use of the term caviar on a product prepared according to the usual method and made from the roe of whitefish, provided the name of the fish is given in conjunction with the word caviar. There is no objection to the use of a harmless coloring matter in a product of this kind, provided a clear declaration of the presence of added color is made on the label. It should, of course, be understood that the product should not be labeled in such a way as to lead...
