Excerpt: .wickere scythe, and down the harvest mews; The busy rakers sweep the stubble plain And bind in lusty sheaves the fallen grain; While buried waggons groan beneath the loads Uf nodding grain, that take the homeward roads, Like moving hills, where perched up on high Their harvest-home the merry reapers cry. XVII. O, happy land! that seek in scenes like these, The harmless pleasures that uncloying please; Where Peace and Industry--with sober hand, Divide the bounty of the fruitful land; Where Law s broad aegis guards the sacred soil And Freedom sweetens all the Yeoman s toil. Such Canada, my honoured Country, thou 1 My theme, my crown, my choicest wish below! Hay no strange Gods invade thy happy bowers And claim the homage due thy native powers; May no base feuds distract thy enorous mind, Nor luxmx cozru t, nor vice un ind;...
