Two major studies(Kawahara et al 1995, Carter et al 1997) suggest the most important barriers to businessoperations concern the supply chain and distribution, particularly transportation. The various logistics functions form major obstacles (Peng 1995, 680). Although this paper focuses on supply chain issues also value chain issues will be touched, as many of the outbound business functions are perceived as shared responsibility of marketing and logistics(Murphy et al 1992, 14). 40 pp. Englisch.
