Mr. Tatham was a well-built and vigorous man of five-and-thirty, with health, good behaviour, and well-being in every line of his cheerful countenance and every close curl of his brown hair. His hair was very curly, and helped to give him the cheerful look which was one of his chief characteristics. Nevertheless, when these innocent seeming words, Do you know the man? which was more certainly demonstrative of certain facts than had those facts been stated in the fullest detail, met his eye, Mr. Tatham paused and laid down the letter with a start. For the moment he felt that he could not read any more. Do you know the man? He did not even ask what man in the momentary sickness of his heart. Then he said to himself, almost angrily, Well! and took up the letter again and read to the end.
