FBC LTD, 2018. Hardback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Education in Albany: An Opportunity and a Business If the preference is for private or parochial training, then the opportunity is equally complete. The Catholic schools offer the same well-rounded courses beginning with the kindergarten, extending through the grades, with four high schools for boys and girls and two colleges for girls. There are also private tuitionary schools for boys and for girls that take young children through the grades and prepare for college. In addition to the regular academic institutions there are schools for those requiring special consideration. In the public schools special classes are provided for those mentally retarded, for the anemic, tuberculous and deaf and for those of poor vision. A vocational school furnishes a two year course for boys and girls who prefer to prepare for a trade rather than for a more advanced academic training, and a continuation school cares for one thousand working girls and boys by giving them the type of education for which they are best fitted, mechanical, commercial or domestic arts. Evening schools last year registered over 2150 pupils. They offer courses ranging all the way from first English for the foreigners who wish to learn our language, through the several grades to advanced work. In science, mathematics and technical studies. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
