GRIN Verlag. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 16 pages. Dimensions: 10.0in. x 7.0in. x 0.0in. Essay from the year 2011 in the subject Art - Architecture History of Construction, grade: -, National University of San Augustin (-), course: Architecture and Urban Design, language: English, comment: Adapted from Do it Yourself, an essay awarded with an HONORABLE MENTION at the GOI Peace Foundation UNESCO Essay Competition 2009. , abstract: Many people believe that architecture is used inappropriately to obtain fame, richness and prestige with a disregard for societies welfare, and that it is not capable to contribute socially and environmentally to humanity. In this context, this essay focuses on presenting the Do it Yourself Design Approach as an initiative to establish self construction processes to adapt high-technologies in communities affected by distressed conditions. Four architecture and urban projects undertook during the last four years exemplify how this vision could be achieved to improve the quality of life in both the city and rural areas. Designers have the opportunity to draw a balanced future for all acting as mediators in community involvement. Through this essay, I call everybody to expand their action beyond paper, beyond the studio; benefitting wealthy and poor communities alike, in order to reduce the social, economic and cultural gaps of our societies. This item ships from multiple locations. Your book may arrive from Roseburg,OR, La Vergne,TN. Paperback.
