The form s irregular as is the thought Of this great age of noisy men, who walk, They deem, in wisdom when, judged by their talk, They are but changelings all. Ne er have they sought Instruction at the fount divine, ne er bought The truth with pain of toil. Wonder no more They are, like waves which dash on yonder shore, Restless. There is a faith whereby is brought To youth, to years, pure good, yea, lasting rest, The wealth of innocence, hi tempests calm, In darkness light, and in distress relief, With all the joys wherewith the saints are blessed. Carry, O book, to some, the healing balm, A faithful message of thy ends the chief. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
