Excerpt: . . . a recess for a very few minutes. A short recess was here taken. VICE-PRESIDENT GUSHING: Before proceeding with the routine part of our program we have with us today a distinguished educator in the person of Doctor Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, President of Mills College, who will speak to us for a few minutes. (Applause.) Address by Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, President of Mills College. DOCTOR REINHARDT: Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen: I am reminded of a fragment of a dialogue in an old Greek comedy--I have not read it for many years, but it goes something in this wise: One man says to another, Why do you come sticking your tent in my mind Haven't you a mind of your own Here you are with your legal tents, and already in these busy days, and it is summer, too, and some of you may want to be raising your recreation tents. All over our land they are raising thousands, yes, millions of military tents. Why should I come and raise my educational tent in your mind When Judge Morrow was speaking to you of the great need in this country I remembered that this month of June is the seven hundred and third anniversary of that month when the Great Charter was made in England. It is seven hundred and three years that there has been evolving this idea of government as the instrument for preserving individual rights. And who knows but that the...
