ORCHESTRAL MUSIC (CLASS M 1000-1268) CATALOGUE: SCORES (CLASSIC REPRINT)

Forgotten Books, United States, 2016. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Orchestral Music (Class M 1000-1268) Catalogue: Scores The Library of Congress, as a rule, collects by purchase neither arrangements for orchestra, nor overtures, etc., detached from dramatic works which it possesses in full score, nor (at least not systematically as yet) first editions of scores contained in complete works, and it collects the orchestra parts of works which exist in score, only, if, as in the case of Beethoven s symphonies, the orchestra parts are of importance for purposes of textual comparison The practice of publishing the scores of orchestral music instead of merely the parts) did not, generally speaking, take root until about 1830. Consequently, if we disregard the modern historical publications and editions of complete works, the collections of the Library of Congress embrace almost exclusively orchestra music in parts as published until about 1830 and in score as published after this date. The earlier period is not yet sufficiently represented to warrant its inclusion in a catalogue which is expected to possess permanent value without being subject to considerable modifications in the near future. On the other hand, the gaps in the collection of scores have become comparatively so insignificant that their gradual disappearance will no longer substantially affect the character of the collection. It was therefore considered wisest to publish only the catalogue of scores at the present time, excluding even such works in the modern concert repertory which, to this day, are not accessible except in parts. Once the collection of orchestra parts of older music shall have been developed systematically, so far as the amazing scarcity of the material permits such a development, a catalogue of it will be...
