Forgotten Books, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Grammar-School Algebra The author has purposely avoided the exercises so often given in most algebras, viz. Find the value of  $x$  in the following equation,  $x^2 - 12$ , for the reason, that, in his judgment, such exercises are not productive of mental growth. The child has simply to recall certain facts already learned by rote to work the equation made for him. On the other hand, if he be given the conditions, viz. A certain number increased by two equals twelve, he not only has to recall the facts as before, but he has to draw an inference and through this inference to form his own equation, which becomes a part of himself, thus enhancing its value and causing its solution to be far more pleasurable. We must not forget that teaching is but the presentation of external conditions for educative self-effort. Thinking is not in itself educative; it becomes educative only when the conscious action is intense, and the conscious activities are immediately needed for development.
