

5000 Miles and Eleven Thousand Days: Musings to a Son on an American Journey So Far

By Bayode Olabisi

Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, United States, 2012. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 203 x 127 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Now American after growing up in West Africa, Bo Jaye - the main character, reflects on this experience to his future son zooming in on the decade long stretch in America and the two decades prior 5000 miles away, leading up to his present role in state government regulating an industry that touches thousands of families every year, that may now include his following a recent trip to Abidjan. Bo s thoughts on current affairs - politics, economy, immigration, and the twenty first century are included. A few questions that the book s narrative tries to answer: 1) What would you do if you have a once in a blue moon chance to be American, and it almost slipped away? 2) Would you work at a company if you didn t get a paycheck for two months - what about five? 3) If you re allergic to syringe needles, but had to take one as the only option to feel better, will you follow the nurse s order? 4) Does race matter in American life,...

READ ONLINE
[7.56 MB]

Reviews

Very useful for all group of people. It is amongst the most incredible pdf i actually have read through. Its been written in an extremely straightforward way and it is just right after i finished reading through this pdf by which basically modified me, change the way i think.

-- Felicia Nikolaus

These sorts of ebook is the ideal book offered. It can be writter in simple terms rather than confusing. I discovered this pdf from my dad and i advised this publication to understand.

-- Mr. Alejandrin Murphy PhD