Delta. Paperback. Condition: New. 231 pages. Dimensions: 7.4in. x 5.1in. x 0.8in. When I was a young lad twenty or thirty or forty years ago I lived in a small town where they were all after me on account of what I done on Mrs. Nugent. Thus begins Patrick McCabes shattering novel The Butcher Boy, a powerful and unrelenting journey into the heart of darkness. The bleak, eerie voice belongs to Francie Brady, the pig boy, the only child of an alcoholic father and a mother driven mad by despair. Growing up in a soul-stifling Irish town, Francie is bright, love-starved, and unhinged, his speech filled with street talk, his heart filled with pain. . . his actions perfectly monstrous. Held up for scorn by Mrs. Nugent, a paragon of middle-class values, and dropped by his best friend, Joe, in favor of her mamby-pamby son, Francie finally has a target for his rage--and a focus for his twisted, horrific plan. Dark, haunting, often screamingly funny, The Butcher Boy chronicles the pig boys ominous loss of innocence and chilling descent into madness. No writer since James Joyce has had such marvelous control of rhythm and language. . . and no novel since The Silence Of The Lambs has stunned us with such a macabre, dangerous mind. This item ships from multiple locations. Your book may arrive from Roseburg,OR, La Vergne,TN. Paperback.
