Not illustrated. 1905 Excerpt: .It appears from the Royalist report that the King s speech was delivered before he received any address of welcome from the county. It was no doubt intended to be in the nature of a manifesto to the country at large, and to be printed and circulated accordingly, and had therefore undergone careful preparation. It consists of a denunciation of the Militia Ordinance (to counteract the execution whereof was the occasion of his visit), an assurance, in which subsequent events proved him a bad prophet, that the county was not likely to be the seat of war, and an appreciation of his own Commission of Array; concluding with the formula adopted by both parties, viz: a solemn declaration of intention to advance the true Protestant religion, to preserve the laws of the land, and to defend the just privileges and freedom of Parliament, and his own...

Reviews

This publication is amazing. It is definitely basic but shocks in the fifty percent of your publication. You wont feel monotony at anytime of your own time (that's what catalogues are for concerning if you question me).

-- Prof. Kirk Cruickshank DDS

This kind of book is every little thing and taught me to looking ahead of time and a lot more. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better then never. I found out this book from my dad and i encouraged this pdf to find out.
