Excerpt: . object of his ambition w? be to prolong his power, it is probable that in case of a war, he would avail himself of the emergence, to evade or refuse a degradation from his place. An Executive for life has not this motive for forgetting his fidelity, and will therefore be a safer depository of power. It will be objected probably, that such an Executive will be an elective Monarch, and will give birth to the tumults which characterize that form of Gov* He w? reply that Monarch is an indefinite term. It marks not either the degree or duration of power. If this Executive Magistrate w? be a monarch for life-- the other prop? by the Report from the Cofhittee of the whole, wd be a monarch for seven years. The circumstance of being elective was also applicable to both. It had been observed by judicious writers that elective monarchies w? be the best if they could be guarded ag8* the tumults excited by the ambition and intrigues of competitors. He was not sure that tumults were an inseparable evil. He rather thought this character of Elective Monarchies had been taken rather from particular cases than from general principles. The election of Roman Emperors was made by the Army. In Poland the election is made by great rival princes within dependent power, and ample means, of raising commotions. In the German Empire, The appointment is made by the Electors Princes, who have...
