

Creating Emotional Artificial Intelligence (Paperback)

By Andre Mainville

Blurb, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .The objective of this book is to explain the necessary components to build and program an Artificial Intelligence (AI) that possesses emotions, a consciousness, ideas, thoughts, motivation and is as autonomous and ready to survive as a human being is. I call it an Emotional Artificial Intelligence, an EAI. The EAI model is composed of as little as 29 components: a body, seven senses, seven fundamental needs, seven fundamental emotions, and seven types of recorded information. The model wishes to be a true mathematical and scientific representation of the brain functions. The model includes a flow chart that shows the streams of information and the relations between each of the components of an EAI. It explains how the human brain functions.
