Air Force Smart Operations for the Twenty-first Century (AFSO 21) is the Air Forces initiative to recapitalize funds by maximizing value and minimizing waste in operations. This is a fundamental shift by the Air Force toward a desired end state of continuous process improvement. Will AFSO 21 change the culture of the Air Force A successful change requires a balance between the system components of culture, vision, structure, leadership, and systems. Air Force leadership may avoid failure in its AFSO 21 implementation if it addresses potential failure points before they fester and take root. The first potential failure point is focusing only on culture and thus creating an unbalanced system or organization. The next potential failure point is the inflexibility of the Air Force structure. A third potential failure point is its human resource management systems. When it comes to quality programs, Air Force midlevel officers are experiencing dj vu. There is still time for Air Force senior leadership to correct the systems alignment and put AFSO 21 on track for long-term sustainment. A culture of continuous process...
