Farrah Gray Foundation Press. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Dear Dad: Where's the Family in Our Family Today, Ky-Mani Marley, In the near thirty years since the death of the world's greatest reggae-music icon, music lovers, truth seekers and new generation social-activists alike, have flocked to the musical catalog of Bob Marley like new believers on a pilgrimage for soul inspiration. Though Marley's iconic life was cut short before his time, his legacy lives on as vibrantly as it did when he walked among us. This is not only true because of his timeless music, but because of the musical genius of the extraordinary children he left behind. Ky-Mani Marley, world-renown recording and performing artist (and tenth child of Marley) has not only written and performed songs of redemption around the world like his famous father, but has lived and survived to tell us his own personally redemptive story in the face of abandonment. Marley's new memoir entitled. "Dear Dad: The Marley Son Who Persevered From The Streets To Prominence," is a compelling biographical exegesis of a son who was locked out of his iconic Father's shelter for the first half of his life, left to the whims and woes of Miami's violent ghetto streets. Estranged from his siblings and cut out of any financial benefit or family acknowledgement by Marley's widow and subsequent manger of his estate, young Ky-Mani Marley was determined to not be a forgotten. Young Marley knew he was the seed of greatness and strove mightily to survive poverty and street predators of every kind eventually establishing a musical recognition and global prominence of his own -- all through the gift of his inherit musical abilities. As you will find in this candid and compellingly told new memoir. Ky-Mani Marley discovers a boys to men rites...
