Excerpt from Agricultural Economics Research, Vol. 6: April, 1954 On the condensed schedule, one question (called a global question) was asked for each of 15 categories of family living expenditures: Food, clothing, housefurnishings and the like. In the more detailed set, an expenditure category was broken down to major items or groups of smaller items that might be thought of together. The contrast between the schedules in the degree of summation varies widely among the categories, depending on the content. Total family living expenditure. - The two schedules build up estimates of total family living expenditures from widely different amounts of detail. In one it is the sum of 15 category estimates; in the other it is the sum of about 200 possible items of family expense grouped into categories, plus 14 to 37 clothing items for each individual.
