Random House USA Inc, India, 1998. Paperback. Condition: New. Main Street Boo ed.. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Sensible, jargon-free financial advice for people in their twenties and thirties -- from the publishers of the critically acclaimed Green magazine. -- What s the difference between a stock, a bond, and a mutual fund? -- Should I invest in a company that guarantees fifteen percent returns or pay off that credit-card balance I ve been carrying for six months? -- How do I get a loan to buy a bungalow or a BMW? -- What s so great about compound interest anyway? -- Can I deduct the cost of this book from my taxes? Providing answers to these questions and sensible money advice for anyone who doesn t want to wade through lots of B.S., Green Magazine s Guide contains savvy, straight-up guidance that demystifies all types of personal financial matters, including every flavor of investing, retirement planning, credit-card debt, student loans, first-time home buying, insurance, and taxes. It also includes plenty of valuable information on learning to live within your means, dealing with deadbeat roommates or spend-thrift boyfriends, or putting on a cheap wedding. What sets Green Magazine s Guide apart from other personal financial books is that it addresses every issue in a way that is easy to understand. Author Ken Kurson s engaging yet always pragmatic money-speak is enlivened with examples, pie charts, comics, and dead-on humor. His advice doesn t sound like Dad, but it is every bit as solid. Green Magazine s Guide is the only book that speaks to all those whose cynicism toward money does not exclude them from seeking their fortunes.
