Excerpt from The Carpenter Prophet: A Life of Jesus Christ and a Discussion of His Ideals But perhaps the preacher will say, -i don t any longer preach the infallibility of the Bible, or the Fall, or the historic truth of the Book of Daniel, or demoniacal possession, or other errors. Ou the contrary, silence gives assent. You must take sides. He that is not with a debated truth is against it. Every time a preacher praises honesty and courage and zeal in behalf of truth, he by implication claims these qualities for himself, claims that he is not evading or sophisticating, not han dling the word of God deceitfully, but is striving to declare faithfully the whole counsel of God as he understands it. You cannot evade the issue. You must choose between a view that harmonizes with every known truth and a view that opposes every truth in every field of knowledge.
