FBC LTD, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****. Excerpt from The Oberlin Alumni Magazine, Vol. 21: October, 1924 The two ponderous volumes which contain his report are divided into five parts. The first deals with the scope and aspirations of the movement and tells the aims of those who are conducting the different types of junior colleges. The second, which is entitled The Educational Functions of the Junior Colleges, describes the actual workings and the student population of the junior colleges. The third part deals in a comprehensive way with the forces within the higher educational system which have operated to produce this kind of institution. The fourth part shows by reference to historical facts and present-day practices that there is a very pronounced overlapping between the high school and the college. Part five is a general summary which brings together all the indications which can be drawn from the facts reported in the earlier divisions of the report regarding the probable course which the junior college movement will follow. The descriptive parts of Professor Koos report make it clear that the junior college is a natural...
