After we go out and preach this kind of gospel to the farmers, we have next to take it up with the creamerymen. We are out preaching the gospel of the dairy cow all the while, and we have to preach it to the creamery patrons and to the creamerymen all along the line. I generally tell the farmers there are three kinds of cows: the beef cow that puts the feed on her back, the dairy cow that puts it in the milk pail, and the scrub cow that the Lord only knows where she puts it--not anywhere. Take the dairy cow. I go into the farmers barns sometimes--I believe in practical instruction...
