The now famous model code of byelaws which was issued by the Local Government Board in 1877 and subsequent years for the guidance of local authorities in framing byelaws under the Public Health Acts, has become the standard type to which most byelaws now conform, and it has brought about many improvements in the mode of constructing buildings and of carrying out sanitary arrangements. Soon after the Local Government Board model code was issued, it became apparent that, although the byelaws in themselves were simple enough, it was necessary that their aims and objects should be explained; and no one could do...
