Brand New Book  Print on Demand .PREFACE WHAT am I to say to precede this cubist- impression picture of a great country Odd notes at odd moments, often made at lightning speed, and under all sorts of circumstances and conditions, lie herein. If you write about America and dont lay eulogy on with a spoon you will never be able to set foot in the United States of America again, they wil hate you so, said a friend. I dont believe it. Americans are older and wiser and kinder nowadays, and will accept the good, and the bad, and the honesty of both, I feel sure. My first visit to the United States was in 1900-1901, on my way to Mexico to write Mexico as I Saw It, which has run into many editions since then. It appeared at five dollars, with three hundred illustrations, and is now brought up to date, and published in abridged form at twenty-five cents. Cheap sales of goods generally mean deterioration but cheap editions of books luckily denote the popularity of the originals. My second visit to America was in the winter of 1904, when a telegram received in Chicago from Ex-President General Diaz invited me to return to Mexico for his seventh election. It was then I commenced Porfirio Diaz, the Maker of Modern Mexico. After much persuasion, for he is a strangely reserved man, he supplied diaries, maps, and private letters, and the hook has been translated into other tongues. In the autumn of 1912, I crossed the Atlantic again- this time on pleasure bent, and to have a holiday and a good time generally after completing my thirteenth book, entitled Thirteen Years of a Busy Womans...
