For anyone who had a special person in their life pass on, these poems will help you find tranquility and quiet your soul to the understanding of why people are born to this earth. Peter left behind a family who loved him dearly; a sister, a brother, a daughter, a grandson, a girlfriend, nieces and nephews, many cousins, and an unbelievable amount of friends from the radio station he worked at and the many community theatres and churches he was associated with. I, his sister, as the author of these poems, have captured the very essence of his life with me and some of the wonderful adventures we had. But mostly, the pain of his death and how it affected me cannot go without saying. I can't go a day without thinking of him and how, as an older brother, helped me become the person I am today. Few people are lucky to say that relationships with their siblings are the best. I am one of the lucky ones. I always called on him to help resolve personal issues. He may have been blunt and to the point, but always understood that help was needed. His values were always for helping the other person, and giving relentless time to his community. He will be missed.
