According to him, by this process he has succeeded in curing four cases of cancer Of the lip, and one of the tongue. For myself, I can say no thing about the merits Of the practice from any personal experience, but entertaining the views which I do on the subject of cancer, I must say that where any operation is proper, a circumstance very rare indeed, complete excision Of the tumour is much to be preferred to any other mode of treatment. Lisfranc, in cases of superficial cancer, proposes to cure it by merely removing the diseased tissue either with the ligature or knife, leaving the organ upon which it happens to be located untouched. When the disease penetrates, or deeply involves an organ, he recommends excision Of the tumor, along with a certain portion of sound tissue.
