

Quantum Archetypes Science, Metaphysics and Spirit

By Robert Verdicchio

AuthorHouse. Paperback. Condition: New. 204 pages. Dimensions: 8.9in. x 5.9in. x 0.6in. Consciousness is a force field consisting of Archetypes which create and regulate mind and matter. The combination of the latter with Quantum theory provides us with a model which is consistent with a non-local universal theory of reality. We exist in this unified field as individuals which are connected at the level where all minds coalesce into one mind which we have called the unus mundas. Consciousness based on the Uncertainty Principle as choice provides us with another dimension at right angles to spacetime which is necessary to avoid biological entropy and determinism. The introduction of quantum archetypes into and within the framework of relativity theory and quantum theory suggests we are one of many, if not infinite parallel universes. Robert J. Verdicchio This item ships from multiple locations. Your book may arrive from Roseburg, OR, La Vergne, TN. Paperback.
