General Accounting Office, 2002 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)54466637 Subject: Earned income tax credit -- United States. Excerpt: . . . taxpayers adopted child, grandchild, stepchild, or foster child - all of whom meet the definition of an EIC qualifying child. For example, as described by one examiner, a grandmother raising a grandchild with a different last name would have to prove her relationship to the child's parents. Some examiners we interviewed said that they would accept various official documents that established the relationship requirement between a nonparental taxpayer and the EIC-qualifying child. The official documents they mentioned included birth certificates of the various parties, an adoption paper, some social programs paperwork that states the relationship between child and taxpayer, or some insurance or medical record that states the relationship. None of these documents is mentioned on the Form 886-R. Although an examiner may eventually obtain the necessary documentation through follow-up correspondence with the taxpayer, the need for additional correspondence leads to extra work for examiners and taxpayers and can lengthen the time needed to close the audit and pay...
