The language of the law of Congress which creates experiment stations and provides for their maintenance says that in each of the agricultural colleges created under the act of 1862 there shall be a department known and designated as an experiment station; and one section of that act, it seems to me, furnishes all the guidance we have. Permit me therefore thread the second section: Sec. 2. That it shall be the object and duty of said experiment stations to conduct original researches or verify experiments on the physiology of plants and animals; the diseases to which they are severally subject, with the remedies for the same; the chemical composition of useful plants at their different stages of growth...
