Glass House

By Margaret Morton

Pennsylvania State University Press. Hardback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Glass House, Margaret Morton, Penn State Press interview with Margaret Morton, March 2004. Your books The Tunnel; Fragile Dwelling; Transitory Gardens, Uprooted Lives; and now Glass House always use a place in their titles and often present photographs of sites throughout New York City. Why these titles? Why so many photographs of the places where the homeless gather to find shelter? From the beginning, my work was devoted not to despair but rather to the courage and imagination with which people face adversity, the ways they manage to build makeshift structures and find warmth and community. I try to show that the term "homeless" is a misnomer that blinds us from seeing how people preserve their sense of home and identity while struggling for survival at the margins of society. How does Glass House fit into your earlier work? Unlike my other books, which are about adults, Glass House focuses upon a group of young people some were runaways who in 1993 established a communal home in an abandoned glass factory on Manhattan s Lower East Side. How did you find out about Glass House and get access to the community? I learned about Glass House...
