R. 3137, Data Needs and Related Issues for Implementing Health Care Reform: Hearings Before the Subcommittee on Census, Statistics and Postal Personnel of the Committee on Post Office and Civil Service House of Representatives One Hundred Third Congress Second Session March 2 and 16; 1994 But the cost is greater than dollars. Just ask the person on Medicare who must suffer the anxiety of filling out confusing forms, or the physician who is forced to spend less time with patients and more time completing paperwork. President Clinton was correct when he said A hospital ought to be a house of healing, not a monument to paperwork and bureaucracy. The technology exists today to move away from a paperwork system and toward an electronic health care data network. But there are no uniform standards to allow this technology to fully develop. To make this work, a hospital in Ohio must be able to communicate with an insurance company in Chicago, which then must be able to contact Medicare in Baltimore. Today, these providers often speak a different electronic language. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
