Jewish Property Claims Against Arab Countries

By Fischbach, Michael R.

Columbia Univ. Press. 1 Cloth(s), 2008. hard. Book Condition: New. (Runner-up for the 2009 British-Kuwait Friendship Society Book Prize) In the 20 years that followed the Arab-Israeli war of 1948, 800,000 Jews left their homes in Syria, Egypt, Iraq, Yemen, Libya, Morocco, and other Arab countries, in large part due to restrictive governmental measures and an outburst of anti-Semitic feeling during and after the war. Some of these "Mizrahi" Jews, most of whom were not active Zionists, were forced to leave behind property of great financial and ancestral value property that was sometimes seized by the governments of the countries they fled. Michael Fischbach has dedicated years to studying land and property ownership in the context of the Arab-Israeli conflict, and in this book a runner-up for the 2009 British-Kuwait Friendship Society Book Prize he reconstructs the circumstances in which Jewish communities left the Arab world. Fischbach offers the most authoritative estimates to date of the value of the property left behind. He also describes the process by which various actors, most importantly the State of Israel, linked the resolution of Jewish property claims to the fate of Palestinian refugee property claims following the 1948 war. "This book is a must-read for anyone dealing...
