Definitely one of the better publication I have got possibly read. It really is written in basic phrases and not difficult to understand. You won't sense monotony at anytime of your respective time (that's what catalogs are for about if you request me).

CreateSpace Independent Publishing Platform. Paperback. Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. 204 pages. Dimensions: 8.5in. x 5.5in. x 0.5in. What if you could write your own business success story in an age of marketplace uncertainty? Doing so requires you to think beyond your products or services. If most everyone in your industry is selling similar offerings, how do you gain the edge over your competition? Better yet, how do you produce more customers when sales and contracts are often determined by the lowest price? To be successful today, and to transcend the low-price mindset, you have to go deeper with your customers, because business, sales, and relationship approaches radically shifted during the last forty years. In CRE8TVE SUCCESS, author David W Litwin details this shift in culture and business. The shift is not political; it's neurological. The Western world has moved from a left-brain to a right-brain-centric society and commercial system. The rote regurgitation of your products and services has given way to story and customer experience. No longer do logical thinkers corner the market on success. Their business tactics, standards less than twenty years ago, won't work as effectively today. Your customers have evolved, whether they know it or not. To thrive in this new business world, you need to think like an artist, like a storyteller, like a designer. To achieve success and produce significance today, you need to think the RIGHT (brained) way. Granted, artists, storytellers, musicians, and designers may not be the highest paid members of our society. But they change HOW you view the world. They have influenced your life and inspired your actions, both consciously and unconsciously. They are world creators and perception skewers. You will use their energies to create a new perception of your world of accounting, pharmaceutical...
